DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 28-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Barecki et al ('202) in view of Barile.

Barecki teaches a leg cap 51 associated with the end of each leg of the chair, and a rubber stacker bumper 27 associated with each leg, each stacker bumper including a leg pad adapted to engage the companion adjacent leg of the underlying chair, and a first pad retainer 52 shaped to mechanically couple the leg pad to an upper end of one of the legs of the chair substantially as claimed except for each leg cap having a guide bumper.

The patent to Barile teaches a leg cap associated with the legs of a chair and each leg cap including a leg receiver and a guide bumper 36 coupled to a leg sleeve and adapted to engage a companion adjacent leg of an underlying chair located under the seat and arranged to support the seat frame in a stacked position above the underlying chair to be old and well known in the art. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify the Barecki device such that it had a guide bumper as taught to be old by Barile thereby providing the obvious advantage of greater protection against scratching of stacking chair legs.

To form the legs of the chair of metal is considered to be an obvious choice and is conventional as shown in the Barile reference.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1, 3-20 and 31-34 are allowed.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 28-30 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
